Contact Me

Born in Manhattan and grew up in a small town in Long Island. I wondered what's it like to be someone and do something that I honestly loved. Still to this day, it surprises me to no end of what I can do. My main objective for my work is my expression of being free and happy. The photography and my Graphic design uses my feelings and expression to really thrive myself currently. Who can I say who does something that they love? The time of being in New York allows me to see how the world can truly be like rather than my fake generalizations. My work comes from my experience during my studies.
